Performance Commentary

SKAGEN Focus continued to hold up well and outperformed the underlying global equity markets in April. Most developed countries are feeling the effects of the prolonged conflict in Ukraine, persistently high inflation and supply chain bottlenecks alongside an aggressive central bank tightening cycle. Central banks around the world almost seem to be competing to have the most aggressive tightening agenda. The strongest performer in the fund was our video-game producer Ubisoft. Strategic buyers are circling the company as the stock has reached levels where we can identify a solid undervaluation and catalysts for re-rating from a mid-term investment perspective. Our two pulp producing companies, Spanish Ence and Canadian Canfor Pulp, were also positive contributors. Pulp prices have recently reached new highs and earnings power is normalising. Ivanhoe Mines was lower as copper prices fell, but still appears significantly undervalued relative to earnings power and its asset base. We exited our position in the nickel producer Vale Indonesia as the equity hit our price target. We also reduced our position in potash producer K+S which briefly hit our price target range. The current investment environment provides us with an unusually broad range of investment opportunities as unwarranted volatility activates our value-based and contrarian investment process. Ultimately, a weaker economic environment and even a partial recessionary environment will uncover plenty of dislocations for us to take advantage of.

SKAGEN Focus is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies with the majority of exposure invested in small and mid-cap companies. Subscriptions are made in fund units and not directly in stocks or other securities. The fund has risk profile 6. The benchmark reflects the fund's investment mandate. Since the fund is actively managed, the portfolio will deviate from the composition of the benchmark.

Performance last ten years

Historical returns are no guarantee for future returns. Future returns will depend, inter alia, on market developments, the fund manager's skill, the fund's risk profile and management fees. The return may become negative as a result of negative price developments. There is a risk associated with investing in the fund due to market movements, currency developments, interest rate levels, economic, sector and company-specific conditions.
